JAPANESE COTILLION

Fancy Dress Ball At The Parker Home.

Prince and Princess Kawanakoa brought the social season of 1904 to a close at the magnificent Japanese cotillion which they gave their last evening at the Campbell Home, Emma street. It was one of the most beautiful costume balls of the year and will mark a charming episode in the social history of Honolulu. The cotillion was one of the most unique fancy dress functions ever attempted here and certainly was one of the most successful.

Japanese in costume, Japanese in decoration, it became truly Japanese in the unusual amount of salaaming and bowing of the guests as they entered the spacious and beautiful home, much to the amusement of the Japanese Consul General and Madame Miki Saito. Many of the costumes bordered on the magnificent, and recalled the times when the Shoguns, in all their Oriental and barbaric splendor, ruled fair Japan. Others dwindled down to the dress kimono of Japanese ladies and gentlemen, while to give local color one or two fictitious island plantation Japanese appeared in their midst. The unusual motif of the gathering gave it a special degree of informality and long before the cotillion opened the guests had become a most happy-go-lucky gathering.

Masks began to make their appearance at 9:30 when Princess Kawanakoa, assisted by Mrs. William A. Purdy, received them at the main entrance. The Princess was attired in a beautiful robin's-egg blue kimono, with flowered chrysanthemums sprayed over its surface. Mrs. Purdy was ranked as an Empress of the ancient days. Prince David saluted in a kimono of quiet design. Then came a motley gathering. Some came in Japanese shoes, but most in foreign shoes for convenience in dancing. The costumes which passed before the Princess's eyes were beautiful gold embroidered silks shading down to crepe. Many of the gentlemen wore costumes which were literally loaded with gold thread and embroidery, representing Emperors, Shoguns, Samurai, and wrestling referees. The ladies appeared to advantage in kimonos of all the delicate and varying hues dear to the Japanese artistic taste. Passing to the rear lanai the guests formed a pretty picture there for the decorations were of a simple Japanese character. From the ceiling hung three large umbrellas, from the tops of which hung tiny Japanese lanterns already alight. Maile, palm branches and cherry blossoms completed the picture.

The lanai was divided by a huge Hawaiian flag, and in the portion not dedicated to ballroom purposes was a long table laden with dainty refreshments and a huge punchbowl, at which "Sonny" Cunha presided. Dancing began shortly after 10 and at 11 there was intermission for refreshments. Then came the cotillion, led by Prince David, as master of ceremonies. The figures were mostly for marching, and the first favors were pretty Japanese parasols, the tops colored red, white and blue. Other favors were tiny metal trays and caskets and wands, from which dangled Japanese lanterns. The cotillion proper aroused much enthusiasm, the intricate and pretty figures calling for applause. Dancing continued until long after midnight. Among the guests were Japanese Consul General and Madame Miki Saito, French Consul Vizcaya and the officers of the French cruiser Protet in full uniform, Lieutenant-Commander Reitzman, German navy; Mrs. Percy Benson, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Miss Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Angus, Misses Angus, Mr. Fred Angus, Mr. Waterman, Miss Alice Jones, Mr. A. Lewis, Jr., Mr. E. E. Hartman, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mr. Isaac Dillingham, Miss Hartnagle, Miss Irene Dickson, Miss Rosie Cunha, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High, Mr. and Mrs. Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. Garley, Miss Marion Roth, Mr. Will Roth, Mr. R. E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Church, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor, Mrs. Cunha, "Sonny" Cunha, Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty, Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Humphris, Mr. F. H. Humphris, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. C. Deering, Mr. and Mrs. R. de B. Layard, Dr. H. V. Murray, Mr. Clifford Kimball, Mr. Frank Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd Smith, Mr. Sam Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bobbitt, Mr. Cushman Carter, Mr. Pfeuffer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. F. M. Hatch, Miss Kaufmann, Mr. E. M. Watson, Mrs. Charles Wright, Miss Wight, Mr. Harold Spencer, Mrs. Wildfield.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.—This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by all Dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

NINE ARRESTS FOLLOW THE INDICTMENTS

Nine arrests were made last evening on bench-warrants consequent to the indictments of the grand jury and several more were expected at any moment. The people arrested last night were: Song Hing Chew for assault and battery with a weapon, John Cabral for fighting, J. E. Fullerton on three different counts, Stephen Uamauma and J. K. Nakookoo for libel, Kawasaki for che fa tickets in his possession, Pedro Ferreira for larceny in the second degree, Hung Chew for conducting a lottery and Paiekopu for selling liquor without a license. There were only three other arrests during the afternoon and evening, two of them for using vulgar language on the public highway.

REPUBLICAN SOLONS HOLD A CAUCUS

tion of most importance was how they were going to finish the work of the session in sixty days. They were all Republicans, yet he was doubtful if they could do it unless they came to some understanding of how they were going to handle things before they went to the House.

Mr. Mahelona held that it depended on the party. The party organization was formulating measures for the Legislature. If the party was ready with its measures the only way he saw was to put the bills before caucus. There would be no kick coming then, because they would have fought everything out in caucus.

Mr. Andrade thought he saw an opportunity of getting some information, referring to the presence of T. McCants Stewart of the County Act Commission, whom he thereupon asked for information as to progress in formulating a county bill and the prospects of having it submitted to the Legislature on February 15.

THE ORACLE UNRESPONSIVE.

Mr. Stewart, replying, referred the caucus to the meeting of the County Commission next Tuesday evening. He might say that while the bill would not be perfect it would be legal. No five men could make a bill perfect. It would be subject to change until it reached the Governor's hands for approval.

Mr. Andrade wanted to know if the Commission were going to report one bill or several bills relating to county government.

COURTESY FORBIDS.

Mr. Stewart answered that he was absolutely in touch with the courtesies of life and thought perhaps it would be discourteous to the other Commissioners if he answered that question. He left for the mainland the middle of September and since his return no meeting of the Commission, or any formal discussion by the members, had been held. They had not yet had time to submit to one another the formal results of their individual work, and perhaps it would not be courteous to his colleagues to say what shape their work would take. He would submit to the Commission that a committee of the caucus should meet with them and take up the work right away Tuesday night.

Mr. Harris stated that a report was current that the County Commission had simply drafted a bill to provide for the organization of counties, leaving to other initiative bills for county revenue and general purposes. He would like Mr. Stewart to answer if that was the fact.

Mr. Stewart said that of course threw him back upon the position that he took in answer to Mr. Andrade. He did know what the general views of the Commissioners were, excepting Mr. Beckley who had been absent from most of the meetings, as to how things were formulating themselves, but as to their general views only. Some of them might have changed their views as to forms and the like. If anything had been organically decided at a meeting of the Commission, he would not consider himself bound to any secrecy as it was public business. As for himself, he would not give his views outside before giving them to his colleagues.

TOO LITTLE TIME.

Mr. Harris observed that there were but six short weeks until the meeting of the Legislature. If the committee were only going to put in a bill creating county government, the six weeks were very short for considering other essential measures relating to counties. Important public works now pending would be stopped until it was known what was going to be done by the County Commission. The subject of taxes, with the question of increased taxation, was possibly more important than anything else requiring consideration. At the last Legislature an estimate for the county of West Hawaii was given, showing the county's probable revenue as $70,000 a year. It was well known that more than $70,000 was expended within the bounds of that proposed county for streets, roads and bridges, and other public improvements. A county with so little revenue would be in a dilemma.

Mr. Stewart intimated that it was no secret that Hawaii was to be one county. "Well," said Mr. Harris amidst laughter, "I presume that will raise some discussion."

"I think it will," Mr. Andrade in sentiment echoed.

Mr. Stewart said a petition from a meeting of citizens of all parties, and not business men particularly but men who worked daily for a living, showed the meeting to have been unanimously in favor of one county for the island.

This was the wish of the Hilo Board of Trade and the only opposition voice the Commission heard was that of Mr. Ryan of Oahu.

Mr. Harris—"Mr. Stewart has not said whether he will retire from behind that mask of diplomacy."

Mr. Stewart—"Mr. Harris ought to be a lawyer, so skillful is he in cross-examining." He could only restate the reason for silence already given.

BROAD ON LIQUOR.

Mr. Broad called attention to what he thought the need of liquor legislation. "I understand a man pays $250 for a beer license and another $1000 for hard liquors. The beer man is selling hard liquors too."

Chairman Long—"You ought to inform the police department."

Mr. Broad—"That has been done too. They arrested Silva in Aala lane. What shall we do in regard to these licenses? Bring it down to one standard or leave it just as it is now? I would be for one basis of, say, $500 license at least, which is a uniform basis."

Mr. Aylett—"The easiest way is a flat rate for wholesale, retail and beer."

DOMESTIC GRAPE WINE.

Mr. Andrade asked Mr. Long if he had made any progress with his campaign measure for encouraging the manufacture of wine from grapes.

Mr. Long said he was waiting for the appearance of a general licensing bill.

Mr. Andrade had found a measure in the laws of 1898 permitting the making of wine from grapes.

Mr. Harris joined in a general conversation on the question as to whether the 1898 law was repealed by the Organic Act. Nobody knew.

Mr. Waterhouse moved that when the caucus adjourned it should be to meet with the County Commission next Tuesday evening. This carried and at 9 o'clock the meeting adjourned.

Confidence...

Just a word about "Confidence"—to begin this new year with. You know how much easier you feel when you are very sick and the old family doctor comes in? That is satisfaction born of Confidence—the conviction, based upon experience, that he will do all that can be done to help you. So, also, in matters of such vital importance as the examination of the eyes and the purchase of glasses it is a comfort to know that you are placing your business where you can also place your Confidence.
